Gospel Reset Bible Class, Pt. 1: Introduction

By luther | March 21, 2019 | 0 Comments

Secular humanism teaches a progressive philosophy of life using only human reason and free inquiry. By that definition, God, religious dogma, and the supernatural are rejected while naturalism and a commitment to science is embraced in determining ethics and self-fulfillment. The adherence to the theory of evolution is one example of how the secularization of [...]

Gospel Reset Bible Class, Pt. 1: Introduction

Posted on March 21, 2019 by luther

Secular humanism teaches a progressive philosophy of life using only human reason and free inquiry. By that definition, God, religious dogma, and the supernatural are rejected while naturalism and a commitment to science is embraced in determining ethics and self-fulfillment. The adherence to the theory of evolution is one example of how the secularization of culture has become a problem in the church and in the church's proclamation of the Gospel for those outside the church. The book "Gospel Reset: Salvation made Relevant," (2018) written by Ken Ham presents a case for beginning with the Creator and the Genesis account of creation, which teaches the reality of sin and death, before presenting the good news of salvation in Jesus Christ.

This study will examine the premises and conclusions of the book "Gospel Reset." It will also use the topics addressed as a springboard to speak about related doctrines and practices.
